PARENTAL LEAVE

Summary:

The Delaware General Assembly recently passed a bill providing twelve weeks of paid parental leave to employees of the State of Delaware. The bill allows full-time state workers employed for at least a year to take up to three months of paid maternity or paternity leave within a year of their child’s birth. Parents who adopt a child ages six and younger also will be eligible. The effective date is April 1, 2019. Attached is a copy of the legislation.

Since the state currently administers FMLA in–house, parental leave will run concurrently with the DIP and be administered alongside FMLA. However, the following minimum requirements apply to the DIP.

16.00 Parental Leave

16.01 Please confirm that you have reviewed the legislation.

Response:

16.02 Please confirm that the intake script can be customized for claim examiners to mention the availability of parental leave and they will direct employees to call their human resources office for additional information and to file a concurrent FMLA/parental leave claim (or potentially warm transfer after the STD call is complete).

Response:

16.03 Please confirm that you will provide a monthly report to the State with key fields for all maternity claims (date of disability, date of delivery, last day worked, expected RTW, etc.). This reporting requirement is added to the Master Report List, Attachment 3.

Response:

16.04 Please confirm that you could add language to EOB’s or other reports to prompt the organization regarding Parental leave.

Response:

16.05 Please confirm your ability to create a dedicated phone number just for State of Delaware claimants, (i.e., press 1 for maternity claim, 2 for all other claims). Once identified, please confirm how your organization could help educate the employee about their parental leave and how it can be used for their STD claim.

Response:
