Attachment A – Scope of Work

Item #1 – Hancock Premium Support: End User Help Desk and Technical Account Management:

The help desk services offered under the Hancock Premium Support Program provides step-by-step instructions to Delaware Weatherization Assistance personnel and for up to 4 sub grantees in the use of the WAP Online system, on an as needed basis, Monday to Friday, during the hours of 9:00am to 5:00pm, Eastern Time. It is designed for end-user guidance and instruction on the use of the complete WAP Online System. This instruction is provided via" live support agents" using telephone and email.

Hancock Premium Support also covers the cost of the Hancock's dedicated Technical Account Manager assigned to assist the staff of the Delaware Weatherization Assistance office and up to 4 sub grantees in the ongoing use of the WAP Online System. The assigned Technical Account Manager works closely with the state office and the sub-grantees to ensure the use of the system is being optimize for their use cases.

Not included in the Hancock Premium Support program are onsite training, software development and consulting services such as working with the DOE on program protocol approvals. Professional services outside of the premium support are available via the execution of a work order.

Item #2 – Software Maintenance: Application Management, Staging Server Hosting:

The Hancock annual software maintenance program entitles the licensee to upgrades of the software as they are made available to customers who execute software maintenance contracts. In addition to software updates, the Hancock software maintenance program includes application management services designed to keep the system functioning optimally that include system tuning, the application of bug fixes and patches and the planning, testing and migration of major release of the software. In order to facilitate customer user acceptance testing of upgrades prior to the migration of a release into production, Hancock Software maintains customer staging areas (sandboxes) in its hosting facility in order to support the proper testing of releases to ensure that customer specific software modifications are not adversely impacted by a system update. The staging area is needed even if the Hancock Software production instance is being hosted by the customer.

Hancock breaks down the software maintenance program into 3 general categories.

- Server Hosting (Staging)
- Bug fixes and software upgrades
- Application Management (performance tuning, application of fixes and upgrades, preventative maintenance)

Not included in the Hancock Annual Software Maintenance program are onsite training, software development and consulting services such as working with the DOE on program protocol approvals. Professional services outside of Annual Software Maintenance are available via the execution of a work order.
